7 A divided union: civil rights in the USA, 1945–74

Study Extract G.

Extract G: From American History 1860–1990, published in 2002.

The USA was gripped by the fear of Communism, which affected all areas of public life. Senator Joseph McCarthy was the most infamous 'witch-hunter'. His anti-communist activities led to a new word in America, 'McCarthyism'. McCarthy used his privileged position as a Senator to name names. Most of those named were investigated and cleared. Yet for four years McCarthy and his supporters continued to make allegations about individuals and to carry out investigations into government groups. Honourable men such as President Truman's former Secretary of State, General Marshall, were unfairly accused.

(a) What impression does the author give about the impact of Senator McCarthy?

You must use Extract G to explain your answer.

Sample of Paper 2 First World War using primary sources

A1 The origins and course of the First World War, 1905–18

(a) Describe TWO features of EITHER the system of alliances and ententes before 1914 OR the Allied drive to victory (July–November 1918).

(6)

(b) Study Sources A and B and then answer the question that follows.

Source A: From a letter sent by a senior official at the German Foreign Ministry, 1 July 1911.

At twelve o'clock today, we will announce the arrival of the gunboat, Panther, at the port of Agadir in Morocco. To justify this, we have already encouraged German businessmen in Morocco to send us complaints about their treatment.

We have chosen Agadir because it leads to the valley of the river Sus, the richest mining and agricultural area in southern Morocco. We plan to take and keep this district to settle.

Source B: From a letter written by a senior official at the British Foreign Office, 5 July 1911.

The German plan in Morocco was carefully thought out. As usual with the Germans, it was launched suddenly. The Germans have since claimed that sending a warship to Agadir was to protect their businessmen until Morocco was calm again. However, I believe that after the visit of the Kaiser to Britain in 1907, he was convinced that the British attitude towards Germany had improved. He now believes that Germany can succeed in splitting Britain from France.

How far does Source A support the evidence of Source B about Germany's actions at the start of the Second Moroccan Crisis (1911)?

Explain your answer.

(8)

(c) Study Extract C and then answer the question that follows.

Extract C: From an online article on the Second Moroccan Crisis (1911), published in 2012.

Germany intervened in Morocco in 1911 mainly for economic reasons. The Algeciras Conference in 1906 had never really sorted out the problems of Morocco. From 1908, the German government decided to demand a better share of the economic riches that they believed Morocco offered. For example, German companies wanted valuable mining rights in southern Morocco. However, there were those in the British government who believed that Germany's real aim was to achieve European domination by creating divisions between the great powers. Many Frenchmen were also alarmed that this was Germany's real intention.

Extract C suggests that Germany's intervention in Morocco in 1911 was mainly for economic reasons.

How far do you agree with this interpretation?

Use Extract C, Sources A and B and your own knowledge to explain your answer.
